Save Energy & Save Money

Cleveland Heights, Released August 12, 2015

Home Repair Resource Center will kick off its “Preparing for Winter” series with a free presentation, “Save Energy & Save $$.” Jim Colopy from GoodCents will talk about how to identify how your home uses – and loses – energy; how to evaluate which measures will be most cost-effective in increasing your home’s energy efficiency; and how you can qualify for rebates on energy-reducing repairs and improvements.

This presentation, sponsored by Home Repair Resource Center, will be held from 7 to 8:30 pm on Tuesday, September 1st, at the South Euclid Community Center, 1370 Victory Drive. Residents of all communities are welcome, but reservations are requested; email pwetherill@hrrc-ch.org, or call (216) 381-6100, ext. 16.

Home Repair Resource Center is a community nonprofit based in Cleveland Heights that helps homeowners repair and maintain their homes. “Save Energy & Save $$” is part of HRRC's HouseMender University series, offering free advice from the experts. Residents can get more information on “Preparing for Winter” by attending repair classes and hands-on workshops on such subjects as insulating your home, caulking & weatherization, and preparing your HVAC system for winter. See HRRC’s website (www.hrrc-ch.org) for more information.
